THEME

The ESMT Coaching Colloquium serves as an opportunity for academics, practicing leadership coaches, HR/L&D professionals, and management consultants to enhance their knowledge, skills, and networks through intensive collaboration and peer-consultation on challenging or unusual cases in the practice of executive coaching.

The broad theme of the 2021 event is Dignity and Humiliation and their reflection in executive coaching practice. We are planning to explore how coaches deal with cases of clients feeling humiliated or humiliating others, what kind of difficulties working with the topic causes in coaching interactions, and how we respond to instances when others (e.g. clients or coachees) cause humiliation in us. We would also like to deepen our understanding of the phenomenon of dignity in organizational and societal lives and see how coaching can support its maintenance or restoration.
