Anna Wannhoff,
ESMT alumna, Germany

From day one, ESMT told us about the importance of networking. Starting with the orientation week, the school arranged and created lots of opportunities to help us get to know our classmates and alumni. This kind of subtle networking is important in helping students to create unlimited possibilities for career development.

Meet the faculty leads!

Guillermo Baquero,
Professor of Finance,
Faculty Lead
of the Master
in Global Management

Profile

Guillermo Baquero is professor of management practice and has been the faculty lead for the MGM since 2014. He received his PhD in Finance from the Erasmus University in 2006, and holds an MBA from the Université Catholique de Louvain and an MS in Economics from the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven. He received his BS in Mechanical Engineering in 1994 from Escuela Politécnica del Ejército in Quito, Ecuador.

Research

Guillermo's research has focused on the persistence of hedge funds and mutual funds, the behavior of hedge fund investors, behavioral finance and experimental economics. More specifically, he concerns himself with two issues: the strategic interaction between investors and fund managers under asymmetric incentive schemes; and the effect of divergent time preferences between investing and divesting.

Lead at the intersection of data, AI, and business

Analytics and Technology for Management

Increasingly large amounts of data are everywhere around us, leading to a sharp awareness of the immense potential of analytics and AI in a wide range of application fields. However, often analytics teams do not talk the language of business, and the business struggles to identify specific use cases where data can bring value. That's where human talent and skills are needed. There's a scarcity of skilled professionals at the interface of management and analytics who can identify the added value and seamlessly integrate analytics into business processes. This is the gap that the MAAI bridges.

Analytics Consulting Project

You will work in a team guided by a professional coach to tackle a real-world analytical challenge in collaboration with one of ESMT's industry partners. Depending on the context, you will collect relevant data, analyze and model various scenarios, and interpret the resulting insights in order to develop analytical solutions to a specific practical problem. Throughout the project, you will work closely with the industry partner, leveraging their domain expertise and aligning with their objectives.
